THE GREEN QUILL

1964

Pleasantville High School

Pleasantville, New York

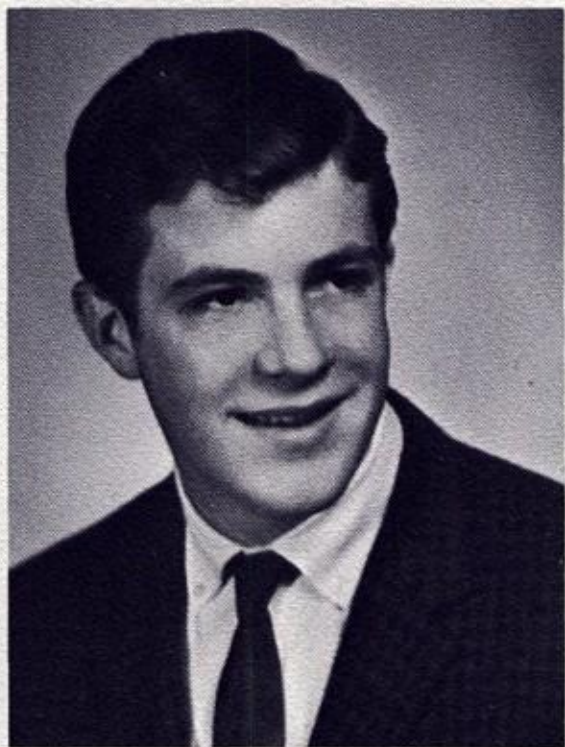

We started out together in high school—we to learn and you to teach—but we soon found out that you were going to be much more than just a teacher to us. We shouldn't say "just a teacher," because in your classes you made us not only understand but somehow even enjoy math. You are interested in our social activities, and thanks to your ingenious ideas and hard work they've been successful. We know that you care about our athletic performance as well, and we're glad to see you at our games. No matter what we do together, we can always count on you to understand us and to communicate with us as our teacher and advisor but most of all as our friend. We return your friendship in full measure as we dedicate our yearbook to you—

IN MEMORIAM

The Reaper and the Flowers

There is a Reaper, whose name is Death,
And, with his sickle keen,
He reaps the bearded grain at a breath,
And the flowers that grow between.

"Shall I have naught that is fair?" saith he;
"Have naught but the bearded grain?
Though the breath of these flowers is sweet to me,
I will give them all back again."

He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes,
He kissed their drooping leaves;
It was for the Lord of Paradise
He bound them in his sheaves.

"My Lord has need of these flowerets gay,"
The Reaper said, and smiled;
"Dear tokens of the earth are they,
Where He was once a child.

"They shall all bloom in fields of light,
Transplanted by my care,
And saints, upon their garments white,
These sacred blossoms wear."

And the mother gave, in tears and pain,
The flowers she most did love;
She knew she should find them all again
In the fields of light above.

Oh, not in cruelty, not in wrath,
The Reaper came that day;
'Twas an angel visited the green earth,
And took the flowers away.

November 22, 1963

I think continually of those who were truly great.

... Of those who in their hearts fought for life,
Who wore at their hearts the fire's center.
Born of the sun they traveled a short while towards the sun,
And left the vivid air signed with their honor.

from the Principal

Dear Seniors:

It is gratifying to watch and help in guiding young people in their maturing years. Occasionally it is heartwarming to observe the forbearance of young people when their elders act in ways which are not in keeping with the avowed principles upon which this nation was founded and which they espouse.

As these words are written all Americans, indeed the whole free world, are experiencing one of the most tragic episodes in our nation's history. Our president has been assassinated by a demented American whose own life was then taken by another whose twisted mind must have been affected by the tragedy, but whose act violated a basic principle long upheld by our Constitution—the right of a fair and impartial trial for the accused.

It will take a long time for us to restore our country's honor in the eyes of the world and to regain our pride in the way we conduct affairs which affect citizens in a free society. No amount of mourning, however universal, can do this for us. Poignant though the memory of these days will be to all of us—what counts is how we respond to this and other crises which will surely come in the days ahead. The way in which you, who are about to emerge from the halls and classrooms of Pleasantville High School, will respond to the crises ahead will depend upon your convictions. You have already begun to form them; they are formed within yourself as you experience success, or disappointment, as you live through national or personal tragedy, as you are affected by events beyond your control, as you meet others whose authority or friendship changes your life.

Will your convictions lead you to courageous acts and decisions? I believe they will. In the years I have known the Class of 1964 I have come to respect your sense of fair play, your consideration for the less fortunate even though you may not know them, your respect for the order necessary for a large number of people to work under crowded conditions, and your pursuit of knowledge with the help of your teachers. I believe you will do your share in maintaining our country's leadership among peace loving nations where law and order prevail.

Do not let the tragic or the shameful events of the past cause you to abandon the convictions you have formed. Instead regard the days ahead as the challenge which youth through history has faced—and continue steadfastly, despite setbacks, to make the right decisions in the light of your firm convictions.

It is likely that you will have moments when you may doubt your convictions. When you doubt, it is time to measure them again. Here is a yardstick I have found helpful:

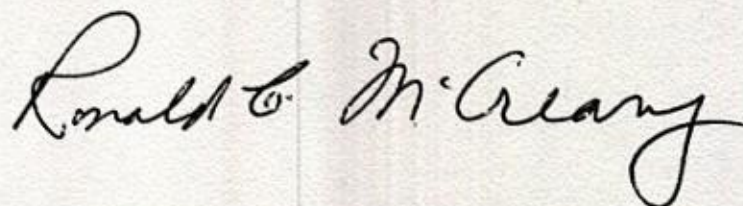

It is known as the Four Way Test of Things We Think, Say, or Do.

- 1—Is it the truth?
- 2—Is it fair to all concerned?
- 3—Will it build good will and better friendships?
- 4—Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Junior

Class

The class of 1965, this year's junior class, had another successful year under the leadership of President Tony Consolo, Vice-President Cindy Heyel, Secretary Nancy Schmit, Treasurer Kathy Speare, and adviser Mr. Paratore. The class held a highly successful Junior Prom, Soirée D'Hiver, on December 20. (With King Terry Devine and Queen Sharon Dieter). There are plans for money-making projects later in the year to get ready for the big Senior Year.

Noon Athletic Commission

The omnipotent Noon Athletic Commission had another vigorous year thanks to the help of its able new adviser, Mr. Wallace. The noon hours were filled with numerous exciting functions for the student body, such as fast-moving volleyball tournaments and foul shot contests, award-winning movies, not to mention the annual Talent Show, which was a success as usual. The NAC ended its second successful year with the annual Spring Festival, which was the highlight of PHS' extra-curricular activities. Next year they hope to increase its activities for the enjoyment of the student body.

Planning and Leadership Committee

The Planning and Leadership, under their sponsor, Mr. McCreary, makes recommendations to the various school organizations so that they might better achieve their goals. It also supervises the financial responsibilities of organizations and prepares the master plans for school plays, dances, athletic events, and on the whole, promoted good leadership. Membership consists of one boy and one girl from each class and the presidents of student government, G.O., Noon Athletic Council, and Assembly Council.

Green Lantern

Walking the halls of PHS, one might be slightly startled to hear a series of hysterical outcries emitting from any member of the Green Lantern staff. "Due to-day?!" — but you never told me I was supposed to write that article!" On and on he might utter nasty epithets until moved to compose a stimulating piece of work.

Due to several incidents similar to the above, the Green Lantern did not put out as many issues this year as had been desired. Those that did appear, however, were both informative and enjoyable. Membership on the Green Lantern staffs provides an excellent opportunity for students who have an interest in journalism and feel that they might find a future in it.

American Field Service Club

The American Field Service Club in PHS was started last year along with the adult chapter, which is sponsored by the Rotary Club. In the past year this organization has increased in size and activity. It has sponsored such money-making projects as the selling of bookcovers, Christmas cards, and tickets for the Pleasantville Players' presentation of "Harvey". The club also helps support and entertain our foreign student Melda, as well as raising money to send our own student abroad. The club has borne fruits, as shown by the successful ambassadorship of our representative to Switzerland of this past summer, Mitzi Porter.

Junior Red Cross

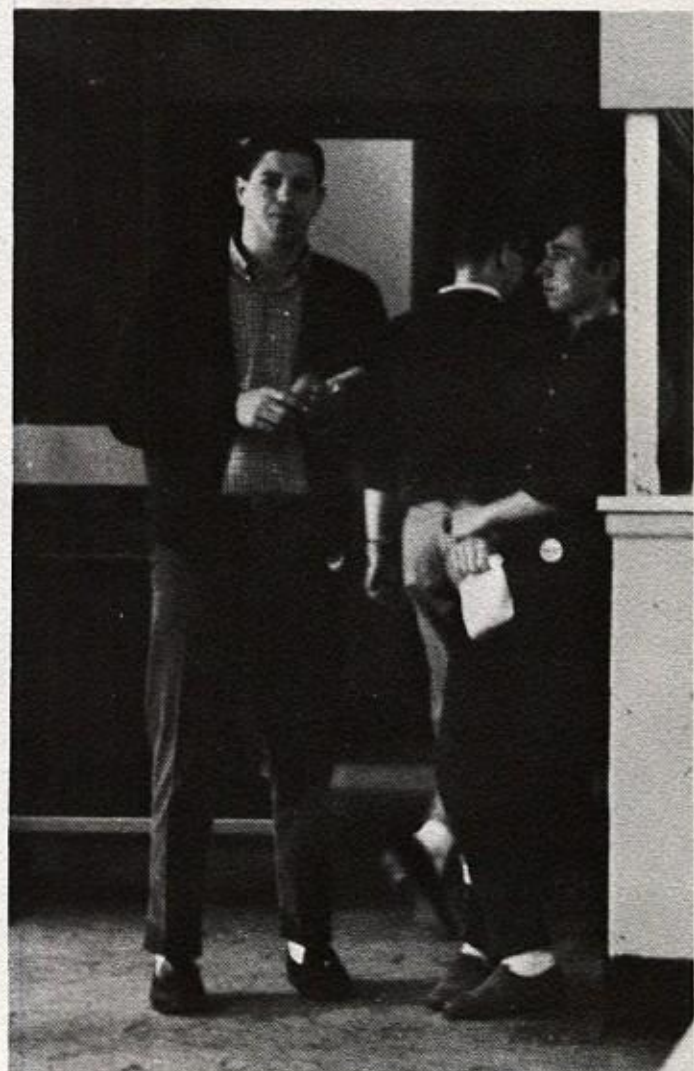

The Junior Red Cross is an organization which does service projects for hospitals, children's rehabilitation homes, and old folks homes. The money for these projects is obtained through a drive which takes place in the fall. Some of the projects of this past year were a Halloween party at Blythedale, a birthday party for the ladies in Grasslands, and a Father's Day treat for the men at Montrose.

Pleasantville High Police

The PHP, under the marshalship of Mr. Beattie, keeps the rest of us criminally-inclined students of PHS in line by pointing out and enforcing school rules established by the Student Court and Administration. Infraction of these laws results in the deadly summons. The PHP polices all school activities such as plays, basketball games, as well as specific posts within the school. As you blithely commence eating your lunch in the upper hall, it is best first to ascertain whether you are being scrutinized by a plain-clothed PHP. Remember: the trial you prevent may be your own.

Assembly Council

This year's Assembly Council, under the inspiration of Mr. Battey, has undergone a year of growth and accomplishment. The traditional programs were presented as well as several outside programs for the edification and amusement of the student body. Having resolved its organizational problems, the council expects even greater success next year.

Organ Club

Pleasantville High School is one of the few high schools that has an organ program. This club is a select group of students who have been recommended by the organ instructor, Dr. D. Dewitt Wasson, and have been voted in by the members. The club members play for convocations, assemblies, and other occasions requiring organ music. In addition to playing for the community, the club makes trips during the year to visit particular organs in the area. These trips are greatly educational and give the members the valuable experience of playing on different organs.

Band

The Pleasantville High School Band, organized in 1913 by John E. Morgan, is the oldest one in the state, maintaining high standards of discipline and musicianship throughout its history. Among the band's many functions are playing for all the football games, pep rallies, and for the various parades in the area. This year it had the distinctive honor of being asked to play at the World's Fair. An annual spring concert, of which PHS has always been proud, gives the band an opportunity to display what it has accomplished through the year. Recently the band was interestingly changed. The opposite sex has finally found its way into the band, which had been an all-male organization for fifty years. The band sees many successful years ahead with the new additions, although there was some dissension among the "old-timers" at first. The band may have changed physically, but the same high standards of the past remain in effect.

Future Teachers Club

The purposes of the Future Teachers Club are to cultivate the qualities essential in a good teacher, to learn about the opportunities in teaching, and to foster the development of student leadership. The main activity of the club this year was to send school supplies to less fortunate and educationally underdeveloped countries through CARE.

The Future Nurses Club, affiliated with the National Future Nurses Club, was organized to help girls of high school age who want to enter the field of nursing. Programs which include speakers, panel discussions, visits to hospitals, a fund raising project, and an annual picnic were on the agenda. Other projects were assisting the nurse, taking field trips, and presenting gifts to children's and old people's homes. For the first time, FNA pins were bought by the members, and the annual preview of the Halloween House was performed for the children of the Milbank Home.

The Commercial Club is an organization for those people who have intentions of entering the businessworld. The main purpose of the club is to keep its members well informed of various business aspects. The members of the group visit business offices to learn what their future jobs might be like. To raise necessary funds, the girls sell typing paper and shorthand notebooks. Under the sponsorship of Miss Nulty, the club also renders service to community organizations in and out of school.

MATH CLUB

$\{x/x \text{ is in the Math Club}\} \subset \{x/x \text{ is a student of Pleasantville High}\}$

"The set of all elements x , such that x is in the Math Club, is a proper subset of all elements, x , such that x is a student in Pleasantville High School." The subset is a finite set consisting of eight elements which meet weekly to discuss problems in mathematics. The elements share a common interest in their subject and enjoy delving into compound probability, geometry, and other similarly interesting subjects.

This year the Math Club got off to a good start by defeating all teams in their section of the Westchester County Interscholastic Mathematics League. Participation in subsequent contests led PHS to further victories.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League is composed of Latin students desiring to probe more deeply into the historical and cultural aspects of the ancient Greek and Roman societies. One of the many activities of the group is the annual Save the Children Federation clothing drive. In the spring friends, Romans, and countrymen assemble for the Junior Classical League Archery Olympics at which prizes are awarded. The League, under its mentor, Mrs. Lomont, also awards prizes to outstanding Latin students.

Chess Club

The Chess Club is the only organization in the school which meets every day. Besides offering a quiet place to play chess, the club holds a tournament open to all PHS students, and occasionally engages competition from other schools. The Queen of PHS' Chess Board is Mrs. Lomont.

The members of the Library Club perform many useful tasks for Mrs. Kiefer, such as putting away books and magazines and keeping the files in order. At their meetings they discuss travel, books and other related topics. They contribute money to charity and sometimes buy books for the library.

T. V. Tips

The purpose of the Television Committee is to point out to the students and faculty of PHS some of the better programs on television. In accordance with this purpose, the Committee publishes the "T. The Panthers, ably coached by Pete Kurachek and Charles Beattie, loomed into the 1963 season appearing to be one of the strongest teams in Westchester. After compiling a 4-2-1 record, it may appear as though the Panthers had been overrated, but those who saw the games knew that win, lose, or tie, Pleasantville completely dominated almost every game. The Panthers started the season with a 7-0 win over Fox Lane. The following week, despite a slow start, the Panthers demolished Eastchester 16-0. We entered the Sleepy Hollow game as one of the few unscored-upon teams in the county. This was soon altered, however, and now Pleasantville considers Sleepy Hollow its greatest rival. The next week we "Fried Rye", our traditional rivals, and handed them their first shut out in thirteen years. After losing a high-tension game to Pelham, the Panthers revived enough to tie Harrison the following week. The angry Panthers topped the season by crushing the Quakers of Horace Greeley. It was a good season against stiff opposition but the Panthers will return next year, even stronger.

Cross Country

After a season of hard work that, for most of the team members, went as far back as July, the Pleasantville Cross Country team finished the 1963 season with an admirable 4-1 record giving it runner-up position to Sleepy Hollow in the S.W.I.A.C. Throughout the season the team showed a remarkable display of talent as they were ranked 11th in Section 1 (Westchester, Putnam, and Dutchess counties) comprising more than 50 teams and 4th in their class. After winning its first meet at Pelham, the team dropped a heart-breaker to Sleepy Hollow but, then went on to defeat Eastchester, Harrison and Rye in succession by substantial margins, thus ending the season in fine fashion. The Cross Country team showed that they could uphold the Pleasantville tradition of fine athletic records and because of this sincerely hopes that there will be an increase in student interest for this sport next year. With a varsity team coached by Gene Bucci, the Panthers showed the winning combination of depth, team spirit, and attitude that was the key to their success this year.

Varsity Basketball

Although ending on a somber note, this year's Varsity Basketball team finished with a respectable record of six wins and eleven losses, and it provided many thrills for the spectators. The squad met with success at the Holiday Tournament at Horace Greeley High School, winning the runner-up trophy after defeating the home team. The highest point of the season came at the defeat of Lakeland, avenging the first game's loss to the Tourney-bound Hornets. Competing in the very tough SWIAC League, the Panthers ended in fifth place.

Coach Kurachek did a fine job with this year's team after coaching Junior Varsity for several years. The team was led in scoring by Jeff Kelly and Captain Jim Hopkins. Roy Colsey and Bob Whitley complemented the scoring with their rebounding. Play-maker Burt Gershater was also instrumental in the Panthers' efforts. Excellent reserve strength was provided by Bruce Miller, Mike Phillippo, Gib Hawes, and Dave Eisele. Jeff, Jim, and Roy represented the Panthers in the annual All-SWIAC game to finish the 1963-64 season in fine style.

THIS MESSAGE IS FROM

Remember Hazleton!

COPYRIGHT © 1963 BY NEWSWEEK, INC.

Tuesday, August 27th, 1963

was a great day
for the human race!

Self-interest,
advantage,
time-and-a-half,
prestige,
profit

were all set aside.

At a hillside mine
near Hazleton, Pa.,

workers,
managers,
schoolboys,

government officials,
worked together in
superb harmony.

Their dramatic, unselfish
rescue effort emphasizes the magnificent heights
to which the human race
can rise.

Why does it
always seem to take tragedy to bring out the best in people?

If this same
spirit of cooperation
existed every day,
it could help America
to get out of a lot of holes!
